Louis William Hawes – Owensboro, Kentucky

Louis William Hawes, 81, of 223 Abbie Ave., Owensboro, passed away Tuesday, January 23, 2007, at Owensboro Medical Health System. He was born in Claude, Texas, to the late Sam W. and Laura Cobb Hawes. He was a retired electrician with and a member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local No. 1701. He attended the Hawesway Christian Chapel and loved to hunt and fish, vegetable garden, and raise cattle. He was such a kind and generous person that he would give anybody "the shirt off his back." Carl, his brother, whom Louis trusted and loved very much, stated that his brother was a "real warrior" to him.

Mr. Hawes was an Army veteran of World War II and a member of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 696 and the National Rifle Association. He entered the Army when he was 18 and went into battle almost immediately. He was a staff sergeant in Company K, 3rd Battalion of the 317th Infantry Regiment and served under General George S. Patton. He was a rifleman and was on the frontlines under combat conditions for nine months. His company was reduced to 12 men, including officers, due to casualties during the Battle of the Bulge. He conducted scouting missions, working ahead of the lines and securing information about the enemy. He participated in four major campaigns while serving in the European theater of operations. He was taken from the battlefield twice for injuries suffered, and was once considered missing in action and presumed dead for 21 days. He was also preceded in death by a brother, Sammy G. Hawes, on October 22, 1982.

Surviving is his wife of 59 years, Margaret Green Hawes; a daughter, Dixie Hawes Falk and her husband, Charles G. ## RESULTS OF HAWES DNA STUDY

What do we know? We know that our Samuel Hawes of Virginia does not connect to or descend from the following lines: (1) Edward Hawes of Dedham, Massachusetts, circa 1616-1687; (2) The Hawes Family of Ipswich, Suffolk County, England, traced back to the fourteen hundreds; (3) Edmond Hawes the cutler, whom came to Yarmouth, Massachusetts on the ship James in 1635, and was the father of John Hawes, whom married Desire Gorham; (4) Richard Hawes of Dorchester, Massachusetts, whom came from England on the ship, True Love, in 1635; and (5) John Hawes of Maryland, circa 1791-1874, whom married Sarah Phillips; their descendants migrated to Illinois and John's ancestor was Peter Hawes of Germany.

We know that Bentley Hause of Cameron, Texas and Raymond Jerry Hawes of Elk Grove, California are descendants of Samuel Hawes of Virginia. Bentley can trace his ancestry back to Barnett Haws, born in Georgia, and whom was most likely the son of Claiborne & Sally Pickett Hawes. Claiborne Hawes was a direct descendant of Isaac Hawes, Sr... Raymond can trace his ancestry back to James W. Hawes, born in Illinois and died in Texas. How James W. Hawes connects to our Hawes line we do not know. But based on their DNA test results, both Bentley Hause and Raymond Jerry Hawes are close matches to our Isaac Hawes, Sr. and Samuel Hawes II DNA study participants.

Twenty-six volunteers have tested in our DNA study so far. We have not had a match back to England / Europe for our Samuel Hawes of Caroline County, Virginia Hawes line, so far.

We have Hawes Association members in Washington State. Is Spencer related to any of our members there?

I'm sorry that I didn't have space to include both pieces.

Coach Romar on Spencer Hawes

"We are very fortunate to have who we feel is arguably the best big man in America at this level. He is not only talented, but he has a lot of toughness. We think he embodies everything that Husky basketball is all about. We expect him to make an immediate impact. We have not had someone who can step in and do the things that he does with his size. As a 7-footer, he is able to score on the low block and able to pass the basketball with a good feel. He will definitely be someone that will make an impact as a freshman."

Dear Family.

This comes to you late, and there was no November newsletter. I haven't felt my best, but I am much better now and have no serious illness. Thank you for all of your calls, email, and letters. Speaking of email, please make note of my new email address, forced on me because my internet company was purchased by another. It is now: jstoe1@suddenlink.net

We have three new association members with this issue. Welcome to each of you. We are very pleased to have you join our group. Clara L. Hawes is the widow of Alfred Walker "Pat" Hawes, grandson of Hugh Walker Hawes, Jr...

The picture of Spencer Hawes on page 6 will probably not Xerox well, but I thought that I would try it anyway. If it is a big blur, please excuse me.

We know that there are many different Hawes lines in the United States and around the world. Sometimes we are unsure about whether or not they are related to us. Bessie Jo Hawes Almerico sent me a copy of an obituary that appeared in the Tampa, Florida newspaper. Jan Hawes, 54, died January 1, 2007, at MD Anderson Hospital in Houston, Texas. She is survived by her husband, Dave Hawes; her sons John and James; and her sister Karon Carroll. Her funeral service was held in Tampa, Florida. Do any of you know if this lady connects to our Hawes line?

Samuel Hawes II was the youngest of the five children of Samuel Hawes I and his wife Elizabeth Anne Spencer, of Virginia. Their children in order of birth were Isaac Hawes, Sr., Mary Hawes, Elizabeth Hawes, Eunice "Nicey" Hawes, and Samuel Hawes II. The family of Samuel Hawes II is listed on page 7. I would appreciate any corrections that you may have to the information shown there.

I hope that this finds all of you in good health.

Sincerely,
